

About the Authors

Sheldon Ives Go Agaton is a teacher of 20 years in Philosophy, Philippine History, Government and Constitution, Sociology and Rizal at the Eastern Visayas State University, Tacloban City, Philippines. He earned his AB Philosophy from Sacred Heart Seminary, Palo, Leyte. He holds an MA in Philippine Studies from Asian Development Foundation

College and further received his PhD at the Eastern Visayas State University both situated in Tacloban City. He also holds a Juris Doctor Degree from the Dr. Vicente Orestes Romualdez Educational Foundation, Tacloban City. He has published a number of research papers and articles from reputable journals, and likewise reviews research works for publication in several indexed journals. He is the deputy editor-in-chief of the Sabton Multidisciplinary Research Journal and the editor-in-chief of the Aradman Multidisciplinary Research Journal. He is the former director of the Eastern Visayas State University Burauen Campus, and currently the Dean of the College of Arts and Science of the Eastern Visayas State University, Tacloban City, Philippines. He is happily married to Sheila R. Agaton and blessed with one son, Magne Justin.

Msgr. Ramón Stephen B. Aguilos

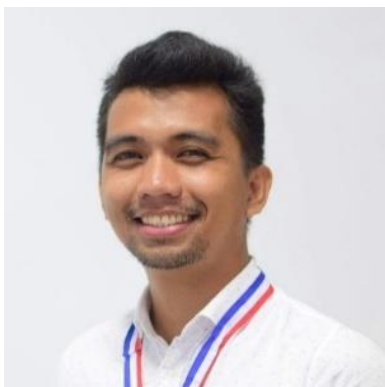

is a Catholic priest of the Archdiocese of Palo. He is at present the Co-Pastor of the Our Lady of Fatima Church, Marasbaras, Tacloban City. He lectures on Church History at the St. John Evangelist School of Theology, Palo, Leyte. He is also the founding member and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Leyte-Samar Heritage Society, Inc. His academic credentials include a Bachelor of Arts major in Philosophy from Sacred Heart Seminary (Palo), a Master of Science in Educational Management (MSEM) from De La Salle University (Manila) and a Doctor in Sacred Theology with specialization in Church History (STD), an ecclesiastical degree duly recognized in civil faculties as a “PhD in Church Studies” from the University of Navarre (Pamplona, Spain).

Peter Paul E. Elicor is an associate professor at the Ateneo de Davao University, Department of Philosophy. He obtained his PhD in Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas with a dissertation on Philosophy for/with Children (P4wC). His research interests are in the areas of Epistemic Injustice, Childhood and P4wC. Currently, he is an Ernst Mach Fellow at the University of Salzburg, Austria.

Beljun P. Enaya is a faculty member of the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences, Visayas State University. He is currently studying for a Ph.D. degree in Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. He finished his Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy at San Carlos Seminary College, Cebu City. After taking up some professional education units at Cebu Normal University, he passed the Licensure Examination for Teachers (LET). He graduated Master of Arts in Philosophy from the University of San Jose-Recoletos, Cebu City, and he published his thesis entitled, Sartrean Freedom and Responsibility in Rousseau's Emile. He co-authored a book, Ethics, for college students. He also co-authored another book, Introduction to Philosophy of the Human Person, which is an output of his department's philosophy extension project. His research interests include moral philosophy, political philosophy, existentialism, and philosophy of agriculture.

Thea C. Galos is an Associate Professor of Eastern Visayas State University-Main Campus where she currently teaches time series analysis and forecasting, regression analysis, biostatistics, multivariate analysis, and research of the Mathematics and Statistics Department. She is an educator by profession, a Professional License Teacher. She obtained her Bachelor of Science in Statistics at the LIT, now EVSU, and earned her MA in Mathematics Education from Leyte Normal University and has already successfully defended her dissertation for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Education major in Research and Evaluation at the University of San Carlos.

Jeffrey Ocay is an Associate Professor of Philosophy at the Graduate School, Eastern Visayas State University, Tacloban City, Philippines, and Senior Fellow of the Philippine Public Safety College. He also serves as Adjunct Lecturer at the Department of Philosophy, Ateneo de Manila University, as well as Associate

Professorial Lecturer at the Graduate School, University of Santo Tomas. Prior to this, he worked as Professor of Philosophy and Associate Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Silliman University, Dumaguete City, Philippines. He currently serves as the Editor-in-Chief of SABTON: Multidisciplinary Research Journal, Editorial Collaborative of Kritike: An Online Journal of Philosophy, Co-Editor of Suri: The Official Journal of the Philosophical Association of the Philippines, and Associate Editor of PHAVISMINDA Journal: The Official Journal of the Philosophical Association of the Visayas and Mindanao. In addition to this, Ocay serves as Editorial Consultant of Social Ethics Society Journal of Applied Philosophy and regular reviewer of Oxford University's Philosophy and Technology Journal, Ateneo de Manila University's Budhi: A Journal of Ideas and Culture, and University of the Philippines' Humanities Diliman. He obtained his doctoral degree in Philosophy from Macquarie University in Sydney, Australia in 2013 and a postdoctorate at the Goethe University Frankfurt-am-Main, Germany in 2016. During his PhD studies, he spent three months in 2010 as a visiting postgraduate student at the New School for Social Research, The New School University in New York City. In 2014, he became a fellow at the Institute for Advanced Studies in Asian Cultures and Theologies, Chung Chi College, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. He also became a fellow of the DIES University Leadership and Management Training Course (UNILEAD 2021), Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany from February 2021 to September 2021, and a fellow of University of Cologne DIES-DAAD ProGRANT from October 2020 to March 2021.

Glenn G. Pajares, Ph.D., D.A. is the dean of the School of Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences of the University of San Jose-Recoletos, Cebu City, Philippines. He has earned a doctorate degree in Philosophy and also a doctorate degree in Literature and Communication. He is an associate editor of the Recoletos Multidisciplinary Research Journal (RMRJ). He is currently writing his dissertation leading to the degree Ph.D. in Bioethics, Sustainability, and Public Health at the American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN).

Enriqueta D. Reston is a Full Professor and former Dean of the School of Education at the University of San Carlos, Cebu City, where she teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in Mathematics Education, Assessment and Evaluation, Research Methods, and Statistics.

She finished BS Mathematics at Silliman University, MS Mathematics major in Operations Research at the University of the Philippines-Diliman, and PhD in Education major in Research and Evaluation at the University of San Carlos respectively.

She has authored and co-authored a number of books such as the 21st Century Applied Statistics with Computer Applications (2004), Seeing the World through Statistics and Probability: A Worktext for for Senior High School (2017), and Teaching and Learning Statistics and Probability through Activities (2016). In addition, she has published more than 20 book chapters and articles in refereed mathematics/statistics education journals, and presented in international professional conferences in mathematics and statistics education.

Moreover, she is a recipient of international grants namely: Linneaus Palmae International Faculty Exchange Program in Jonkoping University, Sweden in 2013; World Bank Grant on Statistical Capacity Building at Max Planck Institute for Human Development in Berlin, Germany in 2016; and Adult Education Training grant from CHED and the Canadian Bureau of International Education (CBIE) at the University of Toronto, Canada in 2018.