

About the Authors

Rogelio P. Bayod is currently the Director of Research and Publication office of Cor Jesu College. He teaches ethics, theology, social sciences, development management and research courses in the same school. He is also a visiting professor of indigenous ethics and development at the American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN). He finished his Doctor of Philosophy in Bio-ethics, Sustainability and Global Health at the American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN). He also finished his Doctor of Philosophy in Development Administration at the University of Southeastern Philippines (USEP). He is also the president of the Philippines Association of Campus Student Advisers, Inc. (PACSA, Inc), a Professional Organization of Student Affairs Practitioners and Campus Student Advisers in the country and the Vice President of the Social Ethics Society (SES), a professional organization of Philosophy teachers, scholars and graduate students.

Arianne Mae T. Borboran is a Mathematics Teacher at St. Peter the Apostle School handling grade school, high school, and senior high school level. Currently, she is also a Developmental Editor, and a Content and Language Editor at Rex Publishing, Inc. She obtained her Bachelor of Science in Mathematics for Teachers Degree from Philippine Normal University and passed her comprehensive exam for Masters of Arts in Mathematics Education – with Specialization in Elementary School Teaching from the same university. Aside from teaching, she also presents and publish papers in some national and international conferences.

Rosie L. Conde, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor in the College of Graduate Studies and Teacher Education Research (CGSTER) at the Philippines Normal University- Manila. Her research interests are in Mathematics Education, Didactics of Mathematics and Anthropological Theory of the Didactics, Social Justice, Gender and Equity in Mathematics Education. Her published works focused on textbooks in Mathematics and researches in Didactics of Mathematics and Mathematics Education.

Mary-Ann G. Cruz is a basic education teacher at Southville International School and Colleges. She obtained a BS in Mathematics for Teachers (BSMT) from Philippine Normal University. She is currently pursuing her MA in Mathematics Education with specialization in Elementary School Teaching from the same university.

Anesito L. Cutillas is an Associate Professor V at Cebu Technological University. He is the current Coordinator for Research and Development in the Graduate School of CTU-Argao Campus. He is also the Local Research Ethics Committee chairman and the Resident Ombudsman of the same campus. He finished his Doctor of Development in Education at CTU and finished his Master of Arts in Education Major in Administration and Supervision at Cebu Technological University. He also graduated with his Master of Arts in Philosophy at Silliman University, Dumaguete City. He has published articles in ACI journals and has presented international, national, and local conferences.

Junielito R. Espanto is an instructor and coordinator of the Gender And Development Unit and the Social Studies program of Abuyog Community College, Abuyog, Leyte. He earned units in Master in Business Administration from University of San Carlos and obtained Juris Doctor degree from Gullas Law School, University of the Visayas, Cebu City. Presently, enrolled PhD in Educational Programs Management at Eastern Visayas State University, Tacloban City.

Erikka June D. Forosuelo is presently the VP for Mindanao and a National Board Member of the Council of Management Educators and Professionals in the Philippines, a Professional Organization of the Business and Management Professionals and Educators in the Philippines. She finished her Doctor of Management major in Human Resource Management at the University of San Jose Recoletos, Cebu City. She also finished her Master in Management for Executives and Managers in the same University and Master of Public Administration at Cor Jesu College in Digos City. She has been invited to give training sessions and lectures on human resource management, leadership and management, employee motivation, customer satisfaction, conflict management, team building and training and development. She has collaborative researches and published several articles in international peer reviewed journals and has presented in international and national conferences. She has been working in the academe for the past 10 years as a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (BSBA) Program Head in the College of Special Programs of Cor Jesu College, Digos City.

Allison Cruyff V F. Ladero teaches Humanities and Social Sciences courses at San Beda University and Jose Rizal University. He obtained his Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy (Magna cum Laude) from Silliman University and Master of Arts in Philosophy from the University of Santo Tomas. His research interests include Herbert Marcuse, Critical Theory, and Social and Political Philosophy.

Melrose G. Mendiola is a Teacher II of Pasolo Elementary School, Division of Valenzuela handling Mathematics for 18 years. She obtained her Bachelor's degree and currently pursuing her graduate studies at Philippine Normal University with the degree in Master of Arts in Mathematics Education with specialization in Elementary School Teaching. She is also an MTAP trainer from 2004 to present.

Alex D. Niez is currently the Dean of Graduate School of Cor Jesu College, Inc. He finished his Doctor of Philosophy in Theology at the Ateneo de Davao University, Davao City (ADDU), and his Doctor of Education major in Educational Planning and Management at the University of Southeastern Philippines (USEP). He also teaches Religious Studies, Logic, Ethics, and in the undergraduate programs, as well as Educational Planning, and Curriculum Processing and Development in the Graduate program.

Jeffrey Ocay currently serves as Director of the Office of Curriculum and Instruction at the Eastern Visayas State University (EVSU). Prior to joining EVSU, Jeff was a Full Professor of Philosophy at Silliman University. He obtained his PhD in Philosophy from Macquarie University, Sydney, Australia, and a postdoctorate from Frankfurt University, Germany. His main research focuses on the application of Critical Theory the Frankfurt School tradition to the societies at the margins.

Karlo May Portento is a basic education teacher in Southville International School and Colleges. Teacher K took up Bachelor of Science in Mathematics for Teachers at Philippine Normal University where she still takes her Master's Degree in Mathematics Education with specialization in Elementary School Teaching. Apart from being a Mathematics teacher, Teacher K also became a trainer in various national and international mathematics competition. Also, she was engaged to different research conferences and became a National Presenter for Mathematics Teacher's Association of the Philippines National Convention in 2017.

Domer P. Regis is currently an Associate Professor and Program Head of the Bachelor of Elementary Education at Abuyog Community College, Abuyog, Leyte. He obtained his Bachelor of Elementary Education major in General Education from Leyte Normal University in 2007, master's degree from Bacoor, Cavite, and doctorate degree from Eastern Visayas State University, Tacloban City in 2015 and 2020, respectively. His research focuses on the level of implementation of disaster risk reduction management (SDRRM) in public elementary schools in Region VIII.

Randolph Rodriguez is a Teacher 1 at Pasolo Elementary School, Division of Valenzuela handling Mathematics for 9 years. He graduated with the degree Bachelor of Elementary Education with specialization in General Education from Partido State University, Goa, Camarines Sur. He is currently taking up his Masters of Arts in Mathematics Education – with Specialization in Elementary School Teaching at Philippine Normal University. He is also an MTAP and a Journalism trainer.

Jennifer R. Torre Franca is a Teacher III of Rosa L. Susano-Novaliches Elementary School and the Mathematics Coordinator of the said school. She obtained her Bachelor's degree and is pursuing her graduate studies in Philippine Normal University with the degree in Masters of Arts in Mathematics Education – with Specialization in Elementary School Teaching. From 2002 until the present, she is one of the successful trainers of the school's Math wizards who joins in different Mathematical Olympiads locally and internationally. She has taught Mathematics for 19 years handling levels from grades 1 to 6.

Rona Marie D. Viernes was a former Grade 1 Teacher at San Pablo Colleges for 3 years and a Grade 2 teacher at Melrose School of San Pablo for a year. She graduated Bachelor of Elementary Education Major in General Education at Laguna State Polytechnic University. She is pursuing her Masters of Arts in Mathematics Education with specialization in Elementary School Teaching at Philippine Normal University. Right now, she is a co-owner of an online tutorial center (M&R Learning Horizon) at San Pablo City, Laguna and a part-time ESL trainer at a Japanese Company.